EDITORIAL

We are publishing elsewhere in this issue an article which appeared in the American Reporter regarding Red Cross Relief Supplies for flood-stricken areas of Assam, Bihar, Uttar Pradesh and West Bengal. Most of you may have read in the newspapers about the East India floods which have not only devastated many villages in East India but also rendered thousands of people homeless. The damages caused by the floods are so great that lakhs of people now threatened with starvation and disease. We know that in such disasters in previous years Madras Juniors played a great part in contributing money and gifts in kind to the relief of the victims. We are glad to tell you that some of the Juniors have already begun collecting donations and clothes for the purpose and some have actually remitted their, donations, which are published elsewhere in this issue. We appeal to other Juniors for similar help which will no doubt go a long way to relieve the distress of the sufferers. We trust that the Juniors of this State will again rise to the occasion and do their best to help the sufferers by their contributions (money and kind) as was done in the past. Donors are requested to send their contributions to the Honorary Secretary, Indian Red Cross Society, Madras State Branch, Egmore, Madras-8, who has kindly agreed to undertake to forward the same to the proper places. Those who wish to send relief parcels by rail are requested to intimate the same to the Honorary Secretary who will arrange for their booking by rail under free railway concession certificates.

FREE WORLD RUSHES AID TO FLOOD VICTIMS

New Delhi.

Seven giant US Air Force C-119 "Flying Box-car" planes have brought nearly 26 tons of badly needed Red Cross relief supplies for flood-stricken areas of Assam, Bihar, U.P., and West Bengal.

Quantities of milk, multi-vitamin tablets, medicines and drugs, clothing and food were flown here from the free nations of Europe and America to help lakhs of Indians now threatened with famine and disease in the wake of the great East India floods.

Medicines and medical equipment will help fight the threat of epidemic in the flooded areas.

The free world has thus once again acted co-operatively in an effort to ward off calamity in one of its member-nations and acted decisively to provide aid where aid is badly needed.

Supplies were sent primarily from the emergency relief depot of the League of Red Cross Societies in Switzerland.

The League requested the help of the U.S. Air Force in rushing the aid to India. The supplies have been paid for by contributions from Red Cross Societies in Canada, Luxembourg, Belgium, Switzerland and the United States. The American Red Cross (ARC) is the largest contributor.

The American Red Cross is a wholly non-governmental enterprise supported by voluntary contributions from the American people.

Relief has also been offered by the Red Cross Societies of Yugoslavia and Italy.

The ARC so far has allocated $30,000 (Rs. 1,43,400) to purchase relief for India. In addition, the U.S. Government is providing free air transport from the United States and Europe for all relief supplies to India from any country.

The first plane-load, which reached Palam airport here on August 23, brought 7,701 pounds of drugs, clothing, and milk powder. The twin-engined "Flying Box-car" was welcomed by Donald D. Kennedy, American charge d'affaires in India, and Sardar Balwant Singh Puri, Secretary-General of the Indian Red Cross Society (IRC). The IRC will handle distribution.

Horace Alexander of the Society of Friends (Quakers), a noted British Social Welfare worker and a life-long associate of Mahatma Gandhi, who personally supervised the arrangements in Geneva for flying the relief supplies to India, travelled to New Delhi by the same plane.

Besides assistance from the American and other foreign Red Cross Societies, the World Health Organisation (WHO) and the UN International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF) also are co-operating with Indian authorities in providing badly needed medical supplies and milk.

FREE TRANSPORT

Trans World Airlines (TWA) last week flew 5,500 pounds of blankets and medical supplies free of charge from the League of Red Cross Societies to Bombay. TWA has offered all available space on their flights free of charge to aid the Indian flood relief.

The Church World Service (CWS), an inter-denominational Christian Welfare Service with headquarters in the United States, has dispatched 38 tons of milk powder and 100 cartons of multipurpose food, which would be sufficient to provide 21,600 full and nourishing meals.

Several other American welfare agencies also are rendering substantial assistance to hard-hit East India. The National Catholic Welfare Conference, a social welfare service with headquarters in Washington, D.C., has rushed to India some 800,000 pounds of skimmed milk powder; consignments are expected in India early this month. This agency has already distributed 170,000 pounds of milk powder in flood-devastated West Bengal and Bihar.

The American Friends Service Committee (Quakers), which was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1948 for its rehabilitation and relief work, also has dispatched 500,000 pounds of milk powder.

CARE, Inc. (Co-operative for American Remittances to Everywhere)—a non-government, non-profit-making American agency which seeks to help the world's needy, in whatever form they need help most—is distributing food packages.

This international co-operation is supplementing the prompt relief measures undertaken by the Union and State Governments, private welfare agencies, and individuals. The Indian Red Cross, in co-operation with governmental authorities, is co-ordinating and supervising the over-all relief programme.

The U.S. Government extended its sympathy for the flood victims of India through Ambassador George V. Allen. Before his departure from New Delhi for home leave, Ambassador Allen assured the Government of India that the U.S. Government would be glad to offer equipment and supplies to combat the damage caused by the flood waters if the Indian authorities felt such assistance was necessary.

With a view to promoting international understanding and goodwill among Juniors, the Japanese Juniors sent a gift of a most artistically worked doll to Madras Juniors through Sri V. K. Narasimhan, who returned to Madras after the completion of his studies in silk industry in Japan. For the presentation of the gift a meeting of Junior Red Cross Groups and Counsellors of the City was arranged at the Red Cross Buildings, Monteith Road, Egmore, Madras, at 4-30 p.m. on Saturday, the 31st July 1954 under the Presidentship of Sri T. P. Santanakrishna Naidu, Honorary Director, Junior Red Cross, Madras State. The President introduced Sri Narasimhan, who was specially invited for the occasion, to those present at the meeting and said that Sri Narasimhan while he was in Japan was a keen Red Cross worker and took an active part in all the Red Cross activities and requested him to present the gift on behalf of the Japanese Juniors. After a short speech the gift was accordingly presented by him to the Juniors of the Madras City. He answered questions about Japanese culture, habits, customs, etc., put by the members. He also presented two tape recordings of Junior Red Cross songs sung by Japanese children. The President in his concluding remarks thanked Sri Narasimhan and the donors for their kind gifts. Photographs taken on the occasion are published elsewhere in this issue.

WATER COLOUR PAINTINGS RECEIVED AS GIFT FROM THE AMERICAN JUNIORS.

Our Headquarters at New Delhi sent us 25 of the above paintings drawn by American Juniors for distribution among our Groups. We despatched them to the Conveners of our District Junior Red Cross Sub-Committees with a request to distribute the paintings to the Groups. We understand that they have accordingly been distributed to the Groups.

The recipient Groups are requested to submit to us specimens of their own art work in exchange for these paintings through their respective Conveners as early as possible. The Groups are informed that any further particulars in this connection may be had from the Conveners themselves.

APPEAL TO ALL THE JUNIOR RED CROSS GROUPS AND CONVENERS OF THE DISTRICT JUNIOR RED CROSS SUB-COMMITTEES

Membership Cards: You are aware that we have introduced individual Membership Cards to be possessed by every Junior as documentary proof of membership and as a means of continuity of training in the case of transfer from school to school and consequently from one group to another. These cards are moderately priced being ONE ANNA each and we recommend that every Junior should hold one along with his badge, corresponding to the entry of his or her name in the Membership Roll of the Group. We shall therefore be thankful if Counsellors will let us know of their requirements of these cards.

The Madras Junior: We are happy to inform our readers that we are endeavouring to increase the usefulness of the MADRAS JUNIOR by increasing the number of its pages and illustrations and presenting interesting and varied matter in addition to news and instructions. In this we seek the co-operation of all readers, Juniors and Counsellors in introducing the Journal to prospective advertisers in their areas and putting us in touch with them. This act of theirs will be much appreciated.

Fund Raising Campaign: Our Annual Fund Raising and Membership Campaign will be conducted this year also throughout India during the month of November 1954. Junior Red Cross Groups are requested to render their personnel help and co-operation in making the campaign an unqualified success this year. We rely a great deal on the help of our Juniors, for it is they who are growing up to be the future strength of the Indian Red Cross Society. We are proud of them and want them to take an active part in this year's campaign. From time to time we will keep our District Branches and Junior Red Cross Sub-Committees informed of the progress of our plans for the campaign and it would be most helpful if Groups like last year make their plans on the methods they would employ to raise funds. The usual Red Cross flags will be made available for sale during the month of November, but in addition Groups are expected to make earnest attempts to raise funds by adopting one or more among the several simple ways mentioned in the booklet, "Indian Juniors—101 ways of Raising Funds" a copy of which was sent already to the Groups last year. Additional copies will be supplied to the Groups on request at a cost of One Anna per copy. We would be grateful if the Groups will contact the nearest District Junior Red Cross Sub-Committees or Red Cross Branches for further particulars in this connection as they would be kept informed of the progress of our plans for the campaign.

The Madras Junior Cover Page Competition for Juniors and Counsellors: We regret to record that response from the Counsellors and Juniors of the Groups for the above competition has so far been poor, even after due publicity was given in the January and April 1954 issues of the Madras Junior. We feel that some of the competitors think that they do not have enough time to prepare entries for the competition or else fear that what they make may not stand a chance of winning a prize, but we can say that those who begin the work in right earnest will be sure to meet with success. In order to give the competitors more time and to submit further entries the Junior Red Cross Sub-Committee of the Madras State Branch has pleased to extend the time limit up to 31st December 1954. Let us see how many Counsellors and Groups individually or collectively send in their entries for the competition. The rules for the competition are republished elsewhere in this issue for the information of the competitors.

Specimens of the posters can be obtained on payment from the Stores Officer, Red Cross Stores Depot, 20, Red Cross Road, New Delhi, and photoprints of the same from the Secretary-General, Indian Red Cross Society, Head-

QUERIES AND ANSWERS

QUERIES.

ANSWERS.

1. Can private institutions like tutorial colleges and unrecognised preparatory schools be permitted to form and register Junior Red Cross groups ?
Private institutions cannot be permitted to form and register Junior Red Cross groups, but they may however join the St. John Ambulance Association and get trained in First Aid.
2. When a maximum number of admission for a Junior Red Cross Counsellors Training Course is fixed at 40, is it advisable to conduct the Training Course with any number less than the maximum ?
Yes, it is permissible. From experience it is found that 40 is a suitable number both from the educational and economic point of view. If the number of persons who offer for training is less and instructors are nevertheless willing to conduct the course, there is no objection.
